

The Hall County School System wants to promote good sportsmanship in the interscholastic athletic programs in our middle and high schools. We want to ensure that all of our coaches not only understand, but, more importantly, follow the guidelines, practices, policies, and by-laws set forth by the Hall County Board of Education and the Georgia High School Association. Thus, we were excited by the potential that Compliance Director, developed by Pioneer RESA, presented to meet these goals. Working with Pioneer RESA, the school system developed an online module covering these standards, which we required all of our coaches to complete. We report a 100% completion rate, along with positive feedback from both coaches and administrators. The consensus was the module has put everyone on the same page regarding expectations in maintaining the highest professional standards.

Gordon Higgins,
Director of Community Relations and Athletics

The Habersham County School System loves ComplianceDirector. This on-line training tool has been very beneficial to us in training our teachers and staff on mandated topics. This tool provides a systemic way to track our system training, and it provides a secure way to maintain our legal records. ComplianceDirector has many unique features, but the one we love the most is the ability to customize modules that help us meet the needs of our teachers and staff. ComplianceDirector is user friendly, and it has freed up our administrative staff to take care of other issues. The mandated reporting records use to take me hours to complete, but now thanks to ComplianceDirector all that information is a click away. If you want a tool that is user friendly and easy to maintain, then I would recommend ComplianceDirector.

Angela Robinson
Personnel Director
Habersham County Schools

ComplianceDirector is an excellent tool for tracking our required training elements. We used ComplianceDirector for all our certified staff training for the Code of Ethics and bloodborne pathogens. It is the most convenient tool on the market for the training and recording of these required items.

Tracy Sanford
Human Resource Director
Lumpkin County Schools

All Gainesville State College teacher candidates participate in the ComplianceDirector.org PSC Code of Ethics module immediately prior to the clinical experience. They also take the follow-up online quiz as proof that they successfully completed the module. Many candidates have included this documentation in their professional portfolios, which has impressed school districts' HR officials and building administrators. ComplianceDirector also frees up our instructional staff, giving them more time to devote to other areas of work.

Dr. Maryellen Cosgrove, Dean

School of Business, Education, Health & Wellness
Gainesville State College

ComplianceDirector has eliminated the need for group meetings to review Code of Ethics, Child Abuse, Mandated Reporting, etc. By having all employees utilizing ComplianceDirector, we have eliminated the need for sign-in sheets and decreased the amount of time needed for faculty meetings. We have customized this website for other Franklin County-specific requirements such as our Internet Use Agreement and Workers Comp Agreement.

The Franklin County Human Resources Department can view employee completion of these training requirements by accessing ComplianceDirector on a daily basis. It has eliminated the need for check-off lists, personnel filing, and paperwork that must be completed annually by the HR Dept. It also helps our school district track employee compliance on an annual basis.

Justin Old
Executive Director of Operations/Human Resources
Lisa Cawthon
Human Resources Coordinator

We have found many strong benefits that the ComplianceDirector training modules afford our school system. The modules make compliance with the requirements of a mushrooming number of mandatory trainings far less onerous, significantly less presentation staff intensive, and still allow for high quality of information/ knowledge transfer and accountability.

The flexibility and customization features of any module allow us to stay current with any changes in the laws and regulations as well as to be able to tailor modules to the specific needs of our school system.

Jim Sargent
Director, Student Services Hall County School System